JOUBINI B2B/EDI

Electronic Data Interchange with Customers & Suppliers Made Easy

The need for a smooth order-to-cash process

In procurement, a smooth order-to-cash process is vital. However, there are a number of challenges that come along with it. A seamless connection between customers and suppliers is an essential part of this process. Industry-specific formats such as EDIFACT and any EDIFACT Subsets, VDA or ANSI X12 as well as customer-specific versions of the EDIFACT standard are the rule rather than the exception. Although EDI guidelines regulate the B2B EDI process, implementing them is complex and time-consuming. Therefore, both a solid strategy and effective methods are required to meet EDI challenges and create smooth and transparent procurement processes with a seamless customer and supplier integration.

Full service in the cloud

In this rather complex context, it is crucial to have a partner at your side who not only has in-depth knowledge of EDI, but who is also able to implement individual customer requirements efficiently and as quickly as possible. Thanks to years of expertise and our EDI partner profiles with over 15,000 mappings, our solution offers you precisely this sort of service. With JOUBINI, we provide a highly scalable full-service cloud platform for the implementation and operation of EDI scenarios.

User-friendly interfaces and transparent monitoring

NTT DATA Business Solutions offers a comprehensive, modern, and highly scalable cloud platform for implementing and operating interfaces in the full service. JOUBINI is characterized by user-friendly and modern interfaces, which are easily accessible using a standard internet browser. It covers all requirements, from connecting new partners or systems to changing and adapting mappings and powerful business monitoring.

- Administration, configuration, and monitoring for every target group
- Content search for EDI messages based on information of the business processes
- Traceability of business processes through document-specific search options, such as the purchase order, article, or invoice number

Any formats, any protocols

Thanks to a canonical mapping concept with over 15,000 standard mappings for seamless supplier integration, our solution offers a smooth implementation of all EDI guidelines. Our pre-defined partner profiles allow for individual customization and thus enable a time- and cost-efficient B2B EDI implementation.

- Very short RAMP times
- New partners can be connected quickly
- Standard portfolio already covers the majority of customers and suppliers
- Maximum efficiency thanks to full-service offering
